

screamfeeder // calling the shots

Screamfeeder are throwing round the high 5's with the news of a special gig on Thursday December 1st 2011. Celebrating their 20 year anniversary as a band and saying farewell to drummer Dean Shwerek who is heading to the UK to live in 2012, this could be the last 'feeder show for a very long time.

The band recently gained full control of their entire back catalogue and released a 40 track digital b sides album, Cargo Embargo. Kellie Lloyd and Tim Steward also continue to be hugely prolific songwriters, releasing albums under their own names as well as with various bands (WE ALL WANT TO, The Warm Guns etc)

Joined by grunge gods Violent Soho, and Tape/Off (Flaming Lips and Archers of Loaf in a blender), and playing a set largely dictated by facebook fans (expect to hear old songs, new songs, hits and rarities), Screamfeeder remind you once again what will always be great about Brisbane indie rock. Come celebrate! Long live the 'feeder!

WARNING: You will leave this show drunk, sweaty and deaf.
