Screamfeeder are Tim, Kellie and Dean.

Dean Shwereb is by far the most interesting member of the group, a drummer, a mod who loves reggae, a groundskeeper by day, he's not afraid of wearing his creepers on the beach; a source of great wonderment and bizarre inspiration. That's him with the radio.

Kellie Lloyd has a room full of broken guitars, old computers, spider webs, and weird paintings. She lives on the side of a hill, loves libraries and is a picture of glowing health.

Tim Steward is the silent captain, ship's steering wheel in one hand, cigarette, turkish delight and phone in the other. He tries to keep everything as unofficial and unspoken as possible, creating an air of mystery around the band and one of blissful ignorance within. We all live within 5 minutes' drive of each other in Brisbane, and we have written 6 albums all on our own.

Our latest album is called Rocks On The Soul. The album comes with a second disc featuring our last two singles, Hi Cs and Triple Hook, and all their b sides.

We've had numerous releases on indie labels around the world.

At the moment we're writing a bunch of new rock tunes for our next album, to be recorded this year.

For much more info on us, our music, our achievements and generally how great we are please check out our website.
